ITEMS OF ALL SORTS.

—The tomb of William Rufus, in Winchester Cathedral, has been opened, and the bones of the monarch, with the veritable arrow of Tyrell, found resting quite comfortably.

—A New York pyrotechnist has invented a portable cannon for political or similar processions, which sends a shell 1500 feet in the air, where it explodes with a loud report.

—For a single house in the Rue de Richelieu, Paris, at the corner of the Rue Menars, about to be demolished for one of the new streets leading from the Grand Opera, the jury has awarded the large sum of 2,000,000 francs, or $350,000. In 1861 the same house was sold for 20,000 francs.

—A foreign paper reports a fire in St. Petersburg which destroyed more than 100,000 bales of flax and 60,000 bales of hemp. The total loss is declared to be 314,000,000 roubles, which would be about $228,000,000. Quite an extensive fire, if the figures are correct.

—The Huntsville Democrat says: We asked a soldier of the Thirty-third United States Infantry how many Grant men there were in his regiment. He replied, "Mighty few. We had one in our company when we were at Selma, but he deserted. All the rest are for Seymour."

—Some interesting relics have been discovered in the "Indian Shell Heaps," near Eagle Hill, in Ipswich, Mass., including a well wrought specimen of the fish spear, and a long, slender, bone awl. The most interesting discovery was a portion of the under jaw of a human being.

—The novel style of novel reading—Husband (old style question): "What! dipping into the third volume, to see if every one is married?" Wife (new style of answer): "Oh, they were married in the first volume; I only wanted to see if it was really her husband who poisoned her."

—Ritualism in Canada has received decided marks of disapproval from the Provincial Synod of the Church of England, now in session at Montreal. On Friday, the Synod adopted a resolution forbidding the elevation of the elements, the use of incense, the mixing of water with wine, the use of the wafer, bread, of lights on the communion table and the wearing of vestments while saying prayers.

—The Brazos Signal, published at Richmond, Texas, says: "We learn that sour mud has been found at Damond's Mound, in this county. It is said to contain the same medical properties as the Sour Lake water. A small piece of this mud, put into a glass of water, will make it quite sour, and it is said to be good, especially for diseases of the liver. We are told that the mud is being sold at two dollars a bushel."

—In addition to "turning towers," a sort of iron blockhouses, which, the French papers learn, are to be established, (like the Martello towers along the English coast, in the time of the war with the first Napoleon) on the banks of the Rhine to protect Coblentz, Mayence and Cologne from French gunboats, the Paris Liberte informs us that a new artillery locomotive has been tried, armed with two pieces of artillery, and intended to perform scouting duty.

—Pastor Knask, the famous Berlin preacher who believes that the sun revolves around the earth, is the same man who hastened to Bismarck, in 1865, and told him he had committed a grievous sin by challenging the eloquent Rudolph Virchow. On another occasion Knask quarreled with the Police President, because the latter refused to close a beer garden, the noise of which Knask said disturbed him in committing his sermons to memory. The reverend gentleman also believes in his own ability to exorcise devils.

—Oscar Becker, the "regicide" who recently died at Alexandria, has left a manuscript volume of reminiscences, in which he bitterly complains of the treatment which he says he received at the hands of the Mayor and other functionaries of the city of Buffalo, where he spent some time after his release from the Bruchsal penitentiary. He charges them with having kept him in a filthy dungeon for several days, and taking from him a considerable amount of money, which he was never able to recover.

—Two new improvements in the famous needle gun (zunduaedel gewhr), it is stated, have recently been submitted to the Prussian war office for approval. One, which is the invention of Lieut. Random, and gets rid of two movements in loading, and increases the rapidity of fire about twenty-five per cent. The other, which is due to a country gentleman named Horst, also gets rid of some of the movements, and nearly doubles the rapidity of fire, raising it to fourteen or fifteen shots per minute. The latter invention, it is stated, moreover fills up the hollow chamber behind the charge, diminishes the escape of gas, and increases the force of the explosion.

—King Victor Emmanuel recently had a narrow escape from death whilst following a "chevreuil" in a mountain pass. Suddenly the King found his progress impeded by a mass of rock which appeared impassable. Undeterred by its formidable aspect, Victor Emmanuel put his foot upon it, but the snow with which it was covered rested on a mass of ice, which his weight gradually displaced. A shepherd, a few yards below him, perceiving the sportman's imminent danger, scrambled up the rock and caught him by the back of his shooting coat, and thus saved his life from certain destruction. His Majesty took off his hat to the poor shepherd, and on the spot handed him one thousand scudi. He has since then settled a pension for life on him.

A Good Joke.

The New Albany (Ind.) Commercial of the 14th says:

We yesterday heard rather a good story on one of our city ministers. During last winter a revival was in progress in one of the country churches near the city. Among the regular attendants on the meeting was a beautiful and estimable, but rather unsophisticated young lady, whose friends were very anxious to have her unite with the church.

She seemed, however, reluctant to do so, and the minister in question was requested to "talk to her." This he did several times, on one occasion saying, in a jocular manner: "Miss M—, if you'll join the church I'll marry you," meaning he would perform the ceremony. The girl seemed pleased with the proposition, and a few evenings after walked up to the altar and united with the church.

Several weeks after this the minister preached at the church, and after the services met the young lady. "Bro. ——," said she, "you know you promised to marry me if I would join the church. Are you going to do so? I don't want to wait any longer." The minister saw his dilemma and attempted to explain. "I meant I would perform the ceremony," he said, "that's all. I can't marry you myself, for I am already married, and love my wife too much to desire to swap her off for another."

The young lady became indignant, declared that she'd leave the church, and that she "never did have much faith in town preachers." Our ministerial friend declares that he will never again use any other than plain scriptural argument to induce a young lady to join the church.

THE New York World, narrating its experience with female compositors, says it has employed at different times nearly a hundred of them; but at last it has given them up altogether. It found them incapable of setting correctly; and it found them utterly incapable even of learning to decipher "bad manuscript." In the latter respect neither the sense of an article nor their own wits enabled them to get out of their difficulties.

FASHIONS.

The Newest Styles Silks, Heavy Materials, Mourning Goods and Suits.

Gloves, Laces and Lingerie, Vulcanite Jewelry and Varieties.

From the New York Evening Post.]

The approach of the "full opening" has brought a revival of trade, and the leading dry goods merchants are doing a very good business. There is a prospect of a greater demand for the better qualities of goods in a short time. Silks and other rich imported fabrics are held at about the same prices as last year, but domestic cotton goods are much lower, and it is thought there will be a further decline in prices, as the value of the raw material is decreasing. Very good ordinary prints are held at twelve cents a yard, and the better grades of bleached shirtings are much lower than last season.

SILKS.

The silks recently imported are rich and elegant, but there are not so many novelties now as during some previous seasons, and it is yet too early to decide what will be the most fashionable color and shade for dinner and evening dresses. Striped satin, in black and green, or black and lavender, or black and red, or black and gold color, is fashionable for under-skirts. Over these are worn shorter skirts of plain chameleon changeable silk, or of shot silk of some harmonizing color. The chameleon and shot silks are much worn now, and trimmed with folds or ruffles, or cross-cut bands of the same material, instead of satin folds, as formerly. All black silk is no longer worn in Paris, in dress or suits—the blue-black silk being much in vogue there. Chameleon silks on a dark ground, shot with some contrasting color, are worn there in suits, and are elegant. Old church-purple, blue-black, invisible green and nearly all the old-fashioned colors are becoming fashionable. Black has been worn so generally that a change seemed desirable.

HEAVY MATERIALS.

There is more than the usual variety of heavy materials for winter wear on exhibition, with the prices about the same as last year. The French poplins will be much used for street wear during the fall months. These are chameleon, purple and gold, or red and blue, as well as in plain self-colors. The satin poplin is a novelty, and very desirable for the underskirt, with a silk overskirt, or for short dresses, and can be obtained in all the favorite colors. A brown satin poplin, shot with gold color, is also new and quite attractive. Then there is the all-wool poplin, a new material, very durable and making desirable traveling suits for winter wear. The "Ponponne" skirting is a new material of American manufacture, nearly two yards wide, and will be very serviceable. It is striped, black and white, and will not be injured by the rain.

For softer tints for evening and dinner dress, shades of grey are still worn, and trimmed with rich lace, having lace sashes to match. For full dress occasions, satins—the grounds in the delicate shades of blue, green, lavendar and pearl—brocaded, in sprays of flowers and clusters of leaves, beautifully wrought in silver and gold, are much in vogue, requiring little trimming and are very elegant.

The late importations in gaze de chambery are very beautiful and artistic in design, the ground work being of some delicate tint, the flowers variegated in bright and cheerful colors. These are intended more particularly for young misses.

Scotch plaids in green, blue, and brown, in woollen, will be much used for carriage wraps this season. The gayer plaids, in finer material, will be in vogue for house wear and for misses. A novelty among English serges is a reversible serge, that is twilled on both sides, and when one side becomes soiled can be turned. This surpasses all other serges for durability. French serge is not reversible, but softer and richer in appearance than the English serge.

A rich silk velour, of the dark shade of gray, will be much used for bridal traveling dresses, making elegant suits; but Irish poplin makes the most elegant bridal traveling suits. Cashmere for winter morning robes is in every style of desirable pattern, from the subdued tints to the most brilliant.

MOURNING GOODS.

There is the usual variety in mourning goods, bombazine being still held as the most desirable for full mourning. Tamise cloth, a heavy material composed of silk and woolen, is used for winter dresses. Crape cloth is still fashionable, but it does not wear as handsomely as many other materials. Biarritz cloth, poplin, and alpaca are worn in slight mourning.

SUITS.

A novelty in suits is of lusterless black silk. It is made with a flounce five inches wide around the bottom of the skirt, and plaited in fan form, headed by a narrow ruffle in box plaits. The ruffle and flounce are bound in garnet silk. Bows of silk bound with garnet are set upon the ruffle, the space between being about one-third of a yard. The over skirt is edged with black silk fringe and garnet tassel. This skirt is very full and open at the back, caught up a la pannier, and joined with bows like those on the lower skirt. Over this is worn a small cape extending to the belt at the back, with slight points a finger's length from the center. It is low in the neck, narrow in the shoulder, and crossing in front with short lappels. The cape is trimmed with fringe, with four bows on the back.

A black silk suit has a wide flounce around the bottom of the skirt; the overskirt is quite short, and trimmed with black tassel fringe, above which are folds of the same. The belt has a bow in front, also at the back, and the sleeves are turned back in cuffs and trimmed in folds.

A handsome suit of purple silk, and trimmed with satin gimp of the same shade. The over skirt is deep and full at the back, sloping up to the sides, where it is festooned with cord and tassel. This skirt is plaited at the neck in wide plaits—the belt passing through the silk, so that these plaits hang loosely over the waist. A Bismarck suit is trimmed with ribbon of a lighter shade. It has a sack with sleeves, and over this a small circular cape. A striped silk is richly trimmed with berthas edged with fringe. The new style of French cape will be worn with suits. It is novel and very becoming to a good figure. A pretty suit is of wood color, the over skirt festooned at the sides, and the front trimmed with cross-cut bands, and having one of the new style French capes. The suits are all elaborately trimmed, made pannier skirt, or very full at the back, to be worn over the bustle. Cloaks will not be as much worn on the street as formerly; suits will be lined with pelise wadding, making them of sufficient warmth for ordinary winter weather; yet cloaks are not to be wholly discarded, as they are indispensable on an extremely cold day.

GLOVES.

The styles in Alexandre's kids for fall wear are unusually attractive, being in all the high colors and of every shade, with cord and tassel to match. The lighter colors, for evening wear, range from the most delicate tint to the strongest shade, and are wrought upon the back with some contrasting colors. The ordinary duchess glove has eight gold studs upon the back of the wrist, the center row of the crochet passing between them; and have two eyelets, a cord and tassel, and are clasped by two studs. A novelty in the duchess has a deeper band, with a welt of some contrasting color, with twelve gold buttons on the back, six above the welt, and six below. These gloves are clasped by two moveable studs (a new invention by Mr. Edward Francis), connected by a chain firmly attached to one, and passing through a slide of the other, is held by an elevated anchor, pressing a link of the chain. This chain is ornamental as well as useful. There are three modes of fastening the glove in vogue—the "tirette" with two tassels, hook and eye, the secured stud and the moveable stud adapted to the use of the chain.

The ordinary gloves have no studs on the back. The reddish brown, in every variety of shade, will be the prevailing color in gloves for street wear. The brown is much handsomer than the old-fashioned brown. The different shades of lavender and gray will also be worn with suits when harmonizing in color. A new and fashionable color in kid is the "Sultane," a purple-tinted red, much admired by those who prefer something livelier than the brown, and shades of wood color still much sought after. For evening wear there are lavender, straw-color, cream-color, pearl and salmon colors, from the most delicate shades to the deepest. White gloves stitched with black, and black welt, are much worn; also black with white welt, cord and tassels. For full dress occasions the white and light shades are made to come up high, and are clasped by three or more studs. The "Casimire," or undressed kid, is also made up in all shades, and many ladies prefer them for ordinary wear.

Cloth gloves for winter are in admirable shades of gray and mixed, of soft texture, and in all sizes, from the infants' to ladies' size. Something newly imported are the English kid, in both gloves and mitts, and lined with plush or lamb's wool. These are very desirable for carriage wear and skating.

LACES AND LINGERIE.

Most of the new lace collars are pointed in front a la Shakspeare. A novelty is a style having deep points in front, smaller points on the shoulder, a slight one at the back, with two exquisitely wrought lace ends falling from the back nearly to the belt. A narrow straight collar has long leaf-shaped ends crossing in front; another has shorter ends, the same form. Bands for the sleeves match the collar, and, with the handkerchief, complete the set. Veils are small. A real Chantilly mask veil can be purchased for forty five dollars. Lace sashes, both white and black, will be worn over rich silk for dress. These are quite full at the back, and fall over the silk in graceful folds. Coiffures in point are still in vogue, but there is nothing very novel in design. A novelty is the lace fan in pearl and white satin, with white point over the satin. Another of pearl has crimson satin covered with black Chantilly.

Chemisettes are made of Valenciennes lace, with cuffs to match, and are worn with the open bodice or surplice waist. Very pretty chemisettes are also made of Swiss muslin and lace insertion. In linen collars the plain round ones are much called for; the collars with points on the shoulder, called the "sailor," do not win favor. The round collar and cuff in striped linen is new, and has sold rapidly during the past week. The white muslin Marie Antoinette fichus are very stylish for dress, and can be worn over any color.

VULCANITE JEWELRY.

The new designs in jewelry are fanciful and unique, and are made in rubber. The gold used in vulcanite jewelry is eighteen carats fine and does not tarnish. A new design is a cylinder with three brands of gold and pendants dotted with gold, forming the pin; the ear-rings are to match. Another set is fern-leaf shape, with gold dots. Chatelaines, bracelets, belt-buckles, sleeve-buttons, studs and pins mounted in gold are much worn. The pen-holder and pencil, in rubber, is handsomely ornamented with gold, and when open it is only two and a half inches long when closed. The rubber fan is a novelty; the one style closing, the other similar shape to leaf fan. There is a desirable improvement on the rubber cup for railway travelers, the rings being attached to a plate that, when closed, forms the box. Ladies' and children's gloves in rubber are useful for gardening or dusting, keeping the hands moist.

VARIETIES.

Among the novelties from France are fans of pearl beautifully carved in flowers, and very desirable for opera.

The adjustable bustle is a new invention. It is formed of hoop skirt springs with a metallic band, to which is attached a short upright that rests against the form. A similar band is fastened to the springs, and gives the "Grecian bend." There is a new style of hoop-skirt made with this bustle and called "L'Elite."

THE NEWS.

Black, yellow, red and purple, are the fashionable colors for the fall.

Eight hundred and twenty miles of the Union Pacific Railroad are in operation.

A heavy frost blighted much of the buckwheat crop in Culpepper county, Va., a few nights ago.

The project of crossing the Atlantic in a balloon is being revived by the aeronauts. All are willing to have somebody else try it.

The notorious Parisian lorette, Cora Pearl is coming to this country. France is taking revenge on America. A Pearl for a Menken.

Lieut. J. D. Porter has "disappeared" from Hartford, Conn., having forged acceptances to the amount of $30,000 in that city and vicinity.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States have decided on a centennial celebration at Philadelphia on the 26th of April next.

Mrs. Healy and Mrs. Sullivan were killed on the 24th inst., at Waterford, Conn., by falling under a train of cars. They attempted to get on the cars while in motion.

Mr. J. W. Brown, formerly one of the wealthiest and most successful planters in Pulaski county, Ga., has recently become a raving maniac, and has been sent to the Milledgeville Lunatic Asylum.

The Episcopallans of Connecticut, comprising 11,187 families and 15,681 communicants, have contributed during the past year, for various purposes connected with the church, $385,514 17.

At the great canned goods establishment at Keyport, N. J., six hundred thousand bushels of tomatoes are canned yearly. Recently sixty thousand pine apples were landed there, cut up, steamed and canned.

Eleven of the negroes engaged in drowning a white man off the steamer Linton, at Evansville, Ind., Monday, have had a preliminary hearing, and been committed to jail to answer for murder.

Capt. Schultz, an ex-officer in the Federal army, blew his brains out in the garden of a citizen of Richmond, Va., on the 24th instant. From whom enemy he had been discharged. He leaves a family in New York.

The sentence of Charles Tucker, alias Mason, convicted of killing his wife at Lockport, New York, by poison, has been commuted to imprisonment for life. Tucker, it will be recollected, was formerly in the Boston custom house, as night inspector.

At Richmond, Va., there is a lively fight growing up between the two wings of the Radical hoard. The anti-carpet-bag Radicals have declared war upon the carpet-baggers and are holding separate meetings. Woe unto the carpet-baggers when the scalawags draw the sword upon them.

On the 13th of August, the same day on which the great earthquake occurred on the west coast of South America, a sea fell wind storm swept over the Argentine Confederation, in the vicinity of Buenos Ayres. Many vessels were blown ashore, and much property on shore destroyed. Thirty lives were lost.

Spain has nine national libraries, containing 1,168,595 volumes. The library of Madrid alone contains 200,000 volumes, that of the Escurial 70,000, while the Salamanca and Barcelona libraries are also very large. Yet education in Spain is at a very low ebb, so low as to excite the suspicion that these libraries are seldom invaded by the army of anxious inquirers.

Bridget O'Gorman, lately Sister Teresa, in the convent of Notre Dame, New Jersey, has just recovered $5,000 dollars damages from Rev. Mr. Walsh, spiritual adviser to the nuns, for her seduction. He sent her to Liverpool, to get her out of the way, but the girl's friends brought her back, and as soon as she commenced the suit Walsh paid up to escape further trouble. He has been suspended from the ministry.

Goodfellow, who is undoubtedly a bad fellow, because he is a carpet-bagger, has resigned his position as Assistant Secretary in the Alabama Legislature. The many part of it is that his letter of resignation is from Chicago. He had gone home to get his carpet-bag full of clean shirts, etc., and the Radical Executive Committee engaged him at good figures to stump in Illinois as a persecuted Southern "loyalist," and fire the Northern mind about the dreadful Ku-Kluxers.

Nearly a dozen of the best citizens of Winnsboro, Louisiana, are out in cards refuting Gov. Warmoth's official communication to the President in regard to the number of murders committed in Louisiana, especially Franklin Parish, during the last six months. As to the latter place, A. W. Moore, the Sheriff, and many other citizens, refute and contradict every statement made by the Governor, and it is but fair to presume that all his other statements are equally false.

The following singular advertisement appeared in one of the London papers: "A lady of retiring habits, whose husband is dead, wishes to dispose of a small but muscular female child, six months old. Captain of a ship or an elderly gentleman going abroad would be handsomely negotiated with. The child is fair and of an engaging disposition, and has been well christened in a Protestant church. Satisfactory reasons will be given by the mother, having no further use for it. By letter only."

Dr. Joseph N. McDowell, one of the most distinguished surgeons in the west, and resident of St. Louis for twenty-eight years, died on the morning of the 26th inst., of congestive chill, in the sixty-third year of his age. Dr. McDowell will be remembered by all survivors of the Army of Tennessee, identified as he was with it from the commencement until the close of the war. He was as noted for his eccentricities as he was for his skill as a surgeon, and in that he was not surpassed by any man of his time on the continent.

At a recent performance of a drama in a London theater, one of the most conspicuous boxes was occupied by a lady surrounded by her children. Suddenly she stood up, advanced to the front of the box, and, pointing her finger at the actor and actress then on the stage, exclaimed, "Gentlemen, that actor is my husband; for the last three years he has been living with him, and these are his children. I ask you such a scamp is worthy to appear before you." Both actor and actress immediately left the stage, and the piece was necessarily ended in the full swing of its success.

The Chicago Republican gives the following explanation of the origin of the troubles among the Catholics of that city, which has resulted in the partial excommunication by Bishop Duggan: The growing discontent at a practically non resident Bishop came to a head several months ago, during his residence in Rome, with the first announcement of the Chicago clergy of the charges against their Bishop reached the head of the church. Bishop Duggan's friends say that at his entreaty the charges were returned to Archbishop Kenrick, of St. Louis, before whom the signers were cited to appear, and by whom the case was subsequently dismissed. The opponents of the Bishop say the grave charges against his personal administration, neglect of his diocese, and of religious forms of the church on other occasions, as well as the fact that he considered a little circular that Bishop Duggan has passed over near the same path which proved fatal to his predecessor, Bishop Regas.

RITUALISM.

For some time the Episcopalians of Memphis have been threatened with Ritualism, and some weak milk-and-water attempts at its introduction have been made in one or two of the churches of that creed. As, for instance, the service has been intoned, and one or two posturings and genuflections been introduced, foreign to it, as it has been practiced in the United States since the establishment of Episcopacy. Against these innovations in the administration of the ritual we have heard some and not a few murmurs by persons of the Episcopal communion. What, then, must be the surprise with which the services of Rev. J. W. ROGERS were yesterday witnessed by hundreds, nay, thousands, who testified at least their admiration for a bold innovator by their presence. What has been slowly and gradually approached by others, Mr. ROGERS has at once realized for the few or the many who feed on newness, excitement and novelty. What he promised in print he realized for his congregation in flowers, candlesticks, incense, sub-altars, acolytes, the obeisance and genuflection usual in the celebration of the mass in the early part of the reign of Henry the Eighth, and before that monarch had given even a weak support to the Reformation. In defiance of custom and canon, Mr. ROGERS has instituted a movement that, say what one will, finds many willing supporters in the Episcopal Church. What may be witnessed as church service in the churches of St. Mary Magdolene, in London, and St. Albans, in New York, Mr. ROGERS yesterday introduced as the method and manner of ritualistic service hereafter to be observed at the Church of the Blessed Virgin, in Memphis. Of the gentleman who thus innovates the Episcopal Church of Tennessee, it is not necessary to say anything to the people of Memphis. To them he is well known. Ardent, impulsive, erratic, affectionate, and a genius withal, he is just the man to be captivated and to captivate in a movement of the character he has initiated. For twenty years his mind has been attuned with the highest ritualism, so that when introduced to its realization at St. Albans, in New York and London, he felt that he but confronted what was right and truthful in church worship. A zelot, yet methodical, it will be hard to deal with him on any other theory than that his strange performance is permissable by the authorities he so readily quotes. A man of energy and of missionary spirit, he is in his right place as the apostle of ritualism. Whether right or wrong, we will notsay, but this much we will premise, that, as in every other city where it has been established, ritualism will triumph here, and find a lodgment in hundreds of hearts now opposed to it but who love the genius who has the boldness to defy bishop, priest and deacon and introduce it in Memphis.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Pennsylvania is undoubtedly the battle ground of the October campaign. Notwithstanding the increase of States west, that State is yet justly regarded the key-stone of the political arch. The Democracy, realizing the fact, are on the alert, and are making every effort for success consistent with the dignity and decency of the party. Some of the best Democratic speakers of the East are stumping the State, Hon. S. S. COX, HEISTER CLYMER, ex-Governor BIGLER, Senator EDGAR COWAN, and others.

Of the last named, the New York World says: "Senator COWAN takes the lead in Pennsylvania of the prominent Republicans who have seceded from that party because it is corrupt, unprincipled, extravagant, and ruinous to the interests of the Union. It is sufficiently significant, and it carries its own comment, that all over the country men like COWAN are coming out of that party, while men like BUTLER stay in."

From Philadelphia to Pittsburg the battle rages fiercely and warm. As in Colorado, Maine, Indiana and Ohio, so there, the Republicans are exerting themselves with men, and money. Bribery and corruption, recklessness of assertion, strife, bickering, falsehood, malevolence and official pressure characterize their efforts. But on the square issues of the day, the Democratic party is fighting manfully and with such signs of success as encourage us in the belief of it in October and November. The sky is brightening all along the political horizon.

REGISTRATION IN NASHVILLE.

The registration of voters has commenced in Nashville, and, as was to be expected, the Radicals are controlling it in a way to discriminate against the Democracy. They have refused to register the young men who have come of age since the war, and who did not participate in it. Much just indignation has been excited by this course, and steps have been taken to compel the performance by the Registrar of Davidson of his plain duty under the law.

This conduct of the Registrar of Nashville should serve as a warning to us here, that in order to the registration of all who have not yet secured their papers, we should ask the Registrar of voters of Shelby county to commence his work immediately. We will have more or less of Radical chicanery to overcome before anything like fair dealing can be had, and the sooner we get to work the sooner we will break through the dirty schemes of our opponents, and realize some approach to the strength of our party.

BROWNLOW ON THE COLORED MAN.

"This question of race you call upon "me to settle to your satisfaction. Do "you ask me to make a pointer out of a "poodle? Do you ask me to make a "peach out of a crab apple? Can you "change a carrot into a melon? Can you "grow an oak from a pea-nut? Will a "donkey produce an Arabian horse? "Will a polecat produce a lion? Can you "hatch eagles by setting a goose on buzzard eggs? Most certainly not! You "cannot undo what God has intended "shall never be undone. It is, therefore, "simply impossible for you to change an "African into an Anglo-Saxon. It is a "question of blood—of race, as I have "remarked; and a question far above "the capacity of those who abuse these "Southern States on account of African "slavery."—W. G. BROWNLOW'S letter to PAYNE, No. 8, October 26, 1860. The year before the war.

THE SEVENTH DISTRICT.

We learn from the Nashville Banner that a convention of the friends of SEYMOUR and BLAIR in the Seventh District have nominated HARDIN J. TURNER, Esq., of Lauderdale, for District Elector, and he is now canvassing the district. He was an original Union man, a lawyer by profession, a good speaker, and very popular in the district.

THE CANVASS IN INDIANA.

Private letters from gentlemen long resident of Indiana and socially influential, tell of an unusual enthusiasm there for the Democratic ticket. They say there can be no doubt of the election of Senator HENDRICKS on the 13th of October, and of the triumph of SEYMOUR and BLAIR on the 3d of November. The Radicals there have, and are trying every knavish trick known to the party, but without success. Money without stint is being used, and bribery and corruption is with them the rule rather than the exception. Voters from Michigan and Illinois are being imported by hundreds, and the most wretched "short-boy" and "blood tub" scoundrels, to intimidate their respectable and reputable opponents of the Democratic party. But with all this, leading Democratic politicians and leading private citizens are sanguine of success in October and November by large majorities. They know the importance of success and are working like beavers for it.

PROFESSOR MAURY.

Prof. M. F. MAURY has lately been installed in the Virginia Military Institute as Professor of Physics. In his address he thus speaks of the contemplated survey of that State:

The first duties of this chair shall be to collect all the existing information within reach as to the climate and productions of Virginia, as to her industrial resources and commercial advantages (not such a survey will in the end develope, and to embody it forthwith in a preliminary report, to the end that strangers, desiring to purchase lands or embark in industrial enterprises of any sort among us, may be provided in an authentic form, with just such information as capital seeking investment may require, and to the end also that the ensuing session of the Legislature may not so long as great statesmen remain in our ranks. "Give us Grant because we can elect him" Again that cowardly argument. Is there nothing in the great party but office hunger? Is the chief end of man the postoffice and revenue service? Are we willing to follow a doubtful leader into an uncertain battle for unknown principles?

THE LATE CANVASS IN COLORADO.

The Omaha correspondent of the New York World thus sums up the result of the late canvass in Colorado and explains the presence of Speaker COLFAX in the Territory pending the election. He says:

The telegrams have already announced the election of Mr. Belden to Congress in Colorado, and the triumph of our cause in that Territory. The fact illustrates another case of the truth chasing down Radical falsehood by telegraph. But I drop this note to you to say that our friends in the East can hardly appreciate the odds against which the Democracy of Colorado have had to contend in the late contest. Dodson Bross and Shuyler Colfax did their utmost during their sojourn in the mountain region but "stump" the Territory for "loyalty" and Bradford against Democracy and Belden. Besides, Radicals had all the Federal patronage, the prestige of success, and every other advantage which could be brought to bear upon so sparse a population. Gen. Gilpin will make the contest from a near standpoint, and, whilst the temptation was doubtless strong with him to enter the list for Belden against the warbling little songster of South Bend, Mr. Schuyler Colfax, we are glad he resisted it with the silence which his position enjoined.

WENDELL PHILLIPS ON GRANT.

WENDELL PHILLIPS, the most advanced Radical in the country, and the man who cuts out the most infamous work for his party, is out for GRANT at last—not as a choice, but as a resource—and, as he says, "one to be borne up and on as the negro's shield." He says:

"We have little confidence in GRANT He is devoid of any statesmanlike instinct The nation recognizes him as a tool. He has been drunk in the public streets since January last.

"The fact is as patent as noon-day. Only those unfit to be trusted with public journals bets pressing themselv e s off for ours can deny it. He is our King Log of our own choice. The lavishness of falsehood cannot claim any qualities which fit him for a leader."

Still he supports him, just because he considers him an imbecile.

THE TRIBUNE ON GRANT.

Previous to the nomination of Gen. GRANT the New York Tribune thus spoke of him as a man and a General:

Gen. Grant we esteem by no means a great man, nor even a very great General. We want a statesman; we want Mr. Chief Justice Chase. The Republican party contains no purer, no worthier nor more gifted man. In what respect does Gen. Grant surpass Mr. Cassey? Is he a better Republican? We ask Gen. Grant. No reply. We want to talk to him about horses and tobacco; we may find him the more valuable of men. Not one word upon the question that backs the heat of the country. "Take me, if you will, as Ulysses S. Grant, General, and when I am President, I shall do as I please." Perhaps we must take him, but we do not feel free to covering over the matter any more so long as great statesmen remain in our ranks. "Give us Grant because we can elect him" Again that cowardly argument. Is there nothing in the great party but office hunger? Is the chief end of man the postoffice and revenue service? Are we willing to follow a doubtful leader into an uncertain battle for unknown principles?

BROWNLOW ON THE "CARPET BAGGERS."

"Let me ask you to carefully read "what I write you, that you may see "yourself as others see you—an unmasked, unmitigated, unregenerated, "and God-forsaken abolitionist—who, if "you will dare show yourself South, and "repeat your wholesale abuse of slaveholders, and your vile reflections upon "the virtue of Southern ladies, shall be "treated to a coat of tar and cotton, and "rode upon a rail by free negroes and "Northern prostitutes, such as are skulking about in our large towns and cities."

Let the carpet-bagger put that in his carpet-bag and travel. It was written by BROWNLOW.

A RADICAL ON RADICALS.

The Rev. THOMAS K. BEECHER is assistant editor of the Elmira (N. Y.) Advertiser, a Radical sheet. In an article in opposition to Mr. WARD, the Radical Congressman from that district, he says:

Congress needs rebuke. New men are needed there men who can remember that the war has changed the Constitution in no particular beyond what was actually accomplished and recognized at the cessation of hostilities. Over a state that has submitted to its former Federal obligations, Congress may not exercise a single new power. Rebels by successful rebellion, gain no new powers, but merely repossess the powers it once had. If a boy kicks his father he gains no new power. But if a father chances his toy, he merely maintains his old standing. A Republican Congress has disregarded these self-evident principles, and has taken to itself unheard of power. Let us rebuke Congress by sending a constitutional Democrat to sit in the seat of Mr. Ward.

THE Corpus Christi Advertiser has from a correspondent these particulars of a bloody and fatal affray which took place on the west side of the river, above Oakville, on the 22d ult., between Mr. Henderson Williams and Sic Brown, about some beeves that were turned into a herd against the wish of Mr. Williams. The latter claimed authority over said beeves, as partly his own and partly those for which he held agencies. Some angry words occurred at first, which culminated in the drawing of weapons, which were heavy dragoon six-shooters. Both parties being mounted, at each successive shot they charged up closer to their dreadful work. The firing was rapid, and the combatants became enveloped in the smoke of their weapons, which lapped together on the last round. Mr. Brown's firing was wild, owing, no doubt, to the fact that he received a mortal center shot from Williams' first fire, although he sat on his horse firmly, until shot the third time through the body, which, centering the heart, he fell a corpse on the instant. Williams was unhurt, but his horse was shot through the head, and was fractious and unruly during the fight.

By Telegraph.

MONTGOMERY.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., September 26.—The Legislature is doing nothing of importance and will probably await the return of Gov. Smith, and consult with him before proceeding to business providing for the election of President in this State.

The report of Gov. Smith's views of affairs in Alabama, sent by telegraph to-day, gives great satisfaction to the people of this section of the State.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 27.—A northeast wind prevailed here to-day, and consequently attendance at the churches generally light.

A subscription has been opened for the relief of the sufferers from the recent earthquake in South America, at the banking house of Galway & Ortado, 14 Pearl Street.

Geo. Summers fell from the third story window of a storehouse last evening and died soon after from injuries, at the New York hospital.

WHEELING.

WHEELING, September 27.—A disastrous fire occurred at an early hour this morning in Culbertson's Star foundry. Four persons were killed and six severely injured by the falling walls. Chief of Police Shauly had both thighs broken and otherwise badly injured. Assistant Policeman Brady was killed instantly while endeavoring to enter the building through a window. Parties have been engaged all day in searching among the ruins for others supposed to have been lost. The property sustained but little damage.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, September 27.—A letter from Hon. John M. Krum, a prominent lawyer and Conservative of this city, was read at Tannery last night, announcing that he intends to support Grant and Colfax.

A prominent feature in the Republican procession last night was a body of about 500 negroes, with banners and transparencies.

A. J. P. Garesche, a prominent lawyer of this city, was refused registration yesterday. Mr. Garesche is the gentleman who contested before the United States Supreme Court, the question whether a lawyer could not practice in this State without taking the test oath in the constitution, and he declares his purpose to contest the same question in its application to the right to vote.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 27.—The Twenty-ninth regiment of United States infantry, which has been on duty here for a year past, and numbers over 800 men, passed over to Alexandria to-night to take passage for Nashville, Tenn., via Knoxville and Chattanooga. On reaching Nashville they will be distributed to other points in Tennessee in view of the approaching election. This reduces the garrison at Washington one-half or one third.

It is stated in official quarters that Commissioner Rollins will take no further action in regard to the appointment of Supervisors, until the investigation before Commissioner Quitman shall have terminated.

It is expected that the report of Gen. Sibley on the Camilla disturbance will be received this week.

It is understood that Gen. Sherman has determined to issue arms and ammunition to the citizens along the Indian frontier, for protection against further depredations by the savages.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, September 27.—The wrath of the negroes at Gov. Warmoth's veto of the negro equality bill is unbounded, and threats against his person are reported in the House. Mr. Isabel, colored, author of the bill, said if Gov. Warmoth had been elected on the Democratic ticket he should not have been surprised at the veto, but he was surprised that such a document should come from a man elected on the Radical-republican platform. He thought the message a very weak document and carried out certain principles of the Chicago platform which he did not approve. He said that at first he should see colored men sitting in the halls of Congress he should be ready to exclaim, "O God, I have lived to see this salvation, and I'm ready to depart." Another negro said if this bill brought on a conflict, let it come. The black man was ready for it. The consideration of the veto was postponed until Monday.

Senator Bacon's supplementary registration bill provides for the adoption of the registration of voters made under military commanders, until registration under State laws be completed. The negro equality bill will probably kill this bill in the House if it pass the Senate.

Judge Wm. H. Cooley, of the Sixth District Court in this State, who was refused registration on technical grounds, has sued out a mandamus, returnable in the Fifth District Court.

Many other cases are reported of discharged U. S. soldiers presenting both their discharge and naturalization papers, and being refused because the latter were issued by the Fifth and Sixth District Courts, which the State Board of Registration say are illegal.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, September 27—Noon.—No official dispatches have been received from Madrid since Friday. The following accounts came from other sources:

The revolution in Spain is the result of a union of the Constitutional, Moderate and Liberal parties in an effort to overthrow the reigning dynasty. The fleet has joined the movement because the sailors are unpaid, and a greater part of the army has revolted because they are indignant at the exile of their favorite Generals. The Church, which is bound to the Queen by every tie, resists and holds masses in check.

As far as can be ascertained from various reports received up to the present hour, the insurrection extends throughout the provinces of Cadiz, Seville, Cordova, Huelva, Grenada, Valencia, Alicante, Algezias, Malaga, Vigo, Ferrol, Corunna, Leguino, Alviera and Virido, and many armed bands have appeared in the provinces of Huisca, Sargossa, Ternel and Navarre.

Gen. Pacia has arrived in the vicinity of Cordova, but his troops were deserting in large numbers, and he was obliged to stop his march and wait for reinforcements from Candad Real and Badajoz, which at last accounts had not reached him.

The Province of Biscay has sent troops to San Sebastian for protection of the Queen in Andalusia.

Telegraph wires have been cut, and railroads torn up.

Official journals of Paris, reflecting the feeling of the Emperor Napoleon, are apprehensive of the effects of a great revolution so near France, and are reckoning in leading editorials to discourage the movements, but it is generally believed here that the revolution will be successful, and result in the expulsion of the Bourbons, and probably in the accession of the Montpeliers to the Spanish throne.

A dispatch from Paris says Gen. Prim, with fleet of iron clads, was expected at Barcelona yesterday.

LATER.—Official dispatches have been received from Madrid to-night, which contain the following intelligence:

The rebel forces under Gen. Serrano and the royal army under the Marquis of Novaleschz are gradually approaching each other, and it is probable that a decisive battle will soon take place. The Marquis asks for reinforcements.

General Prim is not well received by other rebel Generals, and is carrying out his own plans without their co-operation.

The Spanish Government has received reports that the rebels have been driven from Alcoy, in the province of Alicante. City of Madrid remains quiet, and no revolutionary demonstrations have been made in the Northeastern provinces.

MADRID, September 24th.—The Gazette confirms a report that the insurgents have appeared in the provinces Alcante, Leon and Asturias, and that the provinces Malaga, Bejal and Alcoy have pronounced in favor of revolution. The insurgents have again occupied Cordova and destroyed bridges over the Guadalquiver, and cut the railroad. Nolvalchez had arrived within fifteen miles of Cordova, and sent for reinforcements. The officers of the Navy have sworn to accept no reward for serving in the revolution, declaring that they have risen to free the country of oppression and a corrupt dynasty. It is rumored that the Balearic Islands have pronounced in favor of the revolutionists.

DUBLIN, September 27.—The leaders of the so-called Fenian party in Ireland are everywhere forming political coalitions with the tories. They even oppose such candidates for Parliament as the O'Donohue, in Tralee, John Francis Maguire, in Cork, and other equally strong advocates of Irish rights.

Journals in Ireland which have shown most sympathy with the late Fenian agitations, have come out strong for the coalition.

FRANKFORT, September 27.—The dam of the large reservoir above Head's Village, in Barr, gave way on Friday night, and the flood washed away several other dams, five mills, five highway bridges, and badly damaged the roads. Loss, nearly $100,000.

Bonds quoted at 75¾.

ED. J. MANSFORD,
Supt. Circulation.

THE WEATHER yesterday was clear and warm—an agreeable change.

OYSTERS have made their appearance at all of the stands in the city.

MR. PAGOUD, of the New Orleans Picayune, left this city for home yesterday.

THE STREET CARS did a "land office" business yesterday. On one car we counted forty-six passengers.

THERE were five arrests in the second district yesterday, up to six o'clock—all of them negroes.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE holds its annual meeting to-day at 3 p.m. for the election of officers for the ensuing year. A full and punctual attendance is requested.

IN THE DARK.—The APPEAL editorial rooms have been for two nights completely in the dark—the gas having suddenly failed us on Saturday night.

THE BEAUTIFUL WEATHER quite filled the churches yesterday. There was the largest turnout on the streets, between 10 and 11 a.m., and 12 and 1 p.m., that we have seen in a long time.

THE BARROOMS, as a general thing, were kept tightly closed yesterday—the stringent order of Col. Beaumont having the effect of making the police very watchful, and the usual Sunday back door trade was almost entirely suspended. Still there were a favored few that were allowed to dispense their "bev-eridges" to thirsty sinners.

TWO EBONY damsels, named Jane Gale and Charlotte Jones, whose scrumptious curls were "kivered" with the snows of seventeen summers, "went for" each other yesterday, and the way they ripped calico was a sin to Moses. While they were reaming and tearing Constable Hayden came along and put an end to the fun by arresting both of them and locking them up in the Causey street station.

NEWTON FORD & CO.—Among the "old reliable" business houses of Memphis probably none are known over a wider area of country than the one whose name we give above. Ever since to the ups and downs of their customers, and doing, probably, as large a business as any house in the Southwest, they have not only retained the confidence of their old friends, but are daily gaining new ones. Each member of the firm is in himself a guarantee of good faith in all business transactions entrusted to the house. We call the especial attention of the planting community as well as country merchants, to their card in another column.

THE KENTUCKY MILITARY INSTITUTE began its session a few days ago with the largest class since its reorganization. A correspondent of the Kentucky Yeoman says of Col. Allin, the manager of the school: "He is perhaps, the best qualified manager for such a school in the West. Educated at West Point, afterwards controlling similar institutions for years, entering the Southern army in a leading position and continuing until the close of the war, an ingrigal, honorable Christian gentleman, with that peculiar tact which alone powses, makes his school under his control the best in the United States.

A WASHINGTON paper has the following—the peerless villain if he can be found should be...[illegible] slave:

A few days ago a young lady about seventeen years of age was brought here from Memphis, Tenn., by a man who stated that she was an orphan, and that she was left by him at the educated. The girl was placed by him at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, on Capitol Hill, where she easily learned [illegible] cookery. By some means or other the [illegible] help on and [illegible] well as those of [illegible] put, and has been [illegible] attempts to procure the girl's clothing from the House, and afterwards [illegible] every proposal refused. Officers were sent upon the track and they soon found the girl and brought her away. She will be sent back by the authorities to her friends in Tennessee.

THE State of Maine has issued a report, entitled the "Water Power of Maine," in which detailed information is given respecting the location, characteristics, improvements, ownership, and other features of a considerable proportion of over 2,00 different water powers, representing in the aggregate from 300,000 to 600,000 horse power. It also recapitulates in a brief manner, in a "Preliminary Statement," the peculiarly favorable conditions, secured by nature and by the liberal policy of the State, under which the water power can be employed. A copy of the report will be sent, free of cost, to manufacturers and the employers of mechanical power, also to public libraries, upon application to Walter Wells, Superintendent Hydrographic Publication, Portland, Me., to whom we return our thanks for a very elegant copy.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT.—George W. Reeves, Judge, etc., convenes this morning at the court house, corner Second and Union streets.

ORDER OF BUSINESS AND RULES.

1. Empanneling and charging Grand Jury, and making up Petit Juries.
2. Call of the Trial Docket through, and the granting of judgments where no defense is made.
3. Forty causes will be set daily for trial, and published in the morning papers.
4. The Second Monday of the term is set apart as Stay-day, when the State docket will be taken up and be concluded before returning to the civil docket.
5. Answers to garnishments must be made on the first motion day of the term.
6. The roll of attorneys will be called every morning, (when the same does not interfere with a pending trial) when brief motions will be heard if not attended with arguments.
7. The first, third, and fifth Thursdays of the term are set apart as motion days.
8. No papers belonging to the trial docket will be allowed to go out of court during the term, except by order of the Court for sufficient causes shown.

M. D. L. STEWART, Clerk.

THE DRY DOCKS.—We learn that the Superintendent of the Cairo Dry Docks has been in our city for a couple of days past, prospecting the building several steamboats that need repairing, and that he has taken contracts for at least ten thousand dollars worth of work to be done in Cairo, every dollar of which ought to have been done in Memphis. In order to get the necessary work done, it will cost each of the boats some six hundred dollars, only to go to Cairo. This sum, multiplied by six or eight, (the number, as we hear, of boats to be repaired), would go a long way toward bringing those dry docks to this city. Since this plan was suggested and talked over in the Chamber of Commerce, we are told by responsible parties, over sixty thousand dollars have been taken in by these docks, every cent of which ought to have been spent here in Memphis, and much more, as there are many boats now here that would be glad, were they able, to go on the docks, and for which their owners are compelled to build side-docks at a great expense, to be "blown away when used but once. The parties appointed to solicit subscriptions will make one more effort to gather the stock needed to insure these docks coming to Memphis, commencing on Monday, the 28th inst., and hope they will meet from the home insurance companies, merchants, manufacturers, mechanics and steamboat owners, with a little more encouragement than on their former visit.

RITUALISM IN MEMPHIS.

The Church of the Blessed Virgin.

Rev. J. W. Rogers Introduces Anglicanism.

Immense Congregation at the Opera House.

Eight or ten years ago a culmination of the efforts of Dr. Pusey and others of the clergy of the Church of England, the Rector of the Church of St. Albans, of London, a Rev. Mr. McNaughter introduced, under the protection of laws that had fallen into insuetude, but which had never been repealed by the British Parliament, what he was pleased to term, and has since been known as Anglicanism, or a return to the middle age method of ritualistic observance of the ceremonies of the Church. Gradually, and little by little, the paraphernalia and elegancies so attractive in the administration of the mass in the period referred to, were brought into play by the reverend gentleman alluded to, so that but little opposition was offered, and, indeed, but little notice was taken of his movements until one day, preceded by acolytes bearing crosses and carrying pots of incense, he marched in upon his congregation, consumed in a, to them, strange guise, but to those familiar with the history of the Church, a truthful representation of the priestly costuming of the period to which the Ritualists, as they are denominated, desire to bring back the Church. He was met with a storm of hisses and such a disgraceful uproar as only the Anglo-Saxon race in its freedom, can be guilty of. But, retiring from the disgraceful scene, the reverend gentleman again and again appeared, subsequently with varying results, until at the present day there are in England no less than twenty similar establishments, some of them with numeries and monasteries attached, all of these emotions of the gorgeous and ancient services of the Mother Church of Rome. In vain have the low church men inveighed against it, in vain has press and pulpit thundered anathemas against it, in vain have crowds of men, excited by the ignorant and bigoted cry of "no Popery" sought to intimidate the votaries of the "new-old" system. Fostered and encouraged by some of the first intelligences of the English Church, hungering for church unity, it is destined, in their esteem, to carry the people to that blessed consummation. Enthusiasts and devotees are the characters, with few exceptions, that are guiding the movement. Men of nerve and "grit," who, thoroughly educated and indoctrinated in church usage and law, know just how far to go without rendering themselves amenable to the authorities.

The same class of men, imbued with the same spirit, have initiated the movement in this country. New York, the headquarters of all new movements and movements, has at least one establishment where, with all the accompaniments of beautiful music, colognes and other ritualistic effects, the simple ritual of a simple creed is disguised out of all recognition by the members of the Episcopal Church.

Memphis, which in many things is a pocket edition of New York, and which avoids many of the excitements and attractions of the great commercial capital, is the first city where Episcopalians have been in any numbers to speak of, seized with this new mania of ritualism. For years there has been a lurking desire for it on the part of some of the ministers, but they did not culminate in any determined conformity to it until after the return of the delegation of the clergy who visited the great council of the Anglican Catholic Church. Among these clergymen was the Rev. J. W. Rogers, who there had his scholarly views of the question more than verified by the practices of the ministry in the London churches mentioned above. This determined him upon the course he has with so much eclat initiated. He witnessed before his departure a feeble effort to establish a collegiate church, and deaneries, hitherto unknown to the American branch of the English church, and other indications of copping out by the time towards what is termed "High churchism." He determined, therefore, upon his return upon what he yesterday accomplished successfully, and proposes to continue.

Seldom have we seen a more elegant and refined

than had already assembled when we entered, at scarcely eleven o'clock. The orchestral chairs and the parquette were all occupied, as were the chairs under the galleries. Some, and not a few either, to obtain a better view of the audience and the ceremonies, had gone up to the first and even second there. Altogether there were perhaps eighteen hundred or two thousand people in the house. As usual in all church or religious assemblages, the ladies predominated. In the choir were only two singers and an organist—the instrument used being a parlor organ of extraordinary sweet tone and power of tone. The scenic and drop curtains were rolled up, and the stage served as a chancel, in which, against a dark and sombre woodland scene in which the artist had depicted a single rift showing the blue sky, stood which, with the super-altar, was draped in dark green with a white cross in the center; the whole profusely ornamented with rare and beautiful flowers. The super-altar was surmounted by a plain apparently about six feet high, on either side of which was a trinity of dressed in stole and surplice, in solemn procession, preceded by the Acolytes bearing censers of burning entered, and, amid the rolling aromatic vapor, reverently kneeled at the altar, and devoutly saluted it. The usual morning services were intermitted, and the exercises of the day commenced with a Litany, which was not intoned. In consequence, we suppose, of the choir not being prepared. After the Litany the Priest advanced to the

in front of the chancel, which, in like manner with the altar, was draped in dark green, marked in the center with a white cross, and delivered a sermon. In consequence of the difficulties attending reporting such a ceremony in so novel a place, we were unable to catch the text, but the following is the drift of the which partook rather more of the picture, perhaps, than of a regular sermon. It was, as he informed the congregation, one of a series which he intended to deliver, in which there would be a unity of design, throughout. He apologized for referring to himself, as it always an ungrateful and disagreeable task, and he then proceeded to review his labors in our midst for the past twenty-five years, placing his record before them. "These are my works," he said, "and show that I have a right to come before you as I do. Your late beloved bishop, good man—all honor and reverence to his memory!—advised me to keep the peculiarities of our church somewhat in the background; not to appear before the people in my surplice, and with the symbols of the church. But he was wrong—it was an error of judgment with him. I always put on my surplice when I preached before the people. The clergy, too, had advised me thus, but I thought honesty the best policy, as well as the direct command of God. 'You are rather forward in this' I am told by some. I am forward, though I have no desire to be considered a leader. I have always been forward—forward with many of you—for I recognize your faces, and have heard you receive the command "forward!" and I have received in my arms the dying, after that command—at Belmont, and at Shiloh, and at the battles around Mobile." "I have," he continued, "celebrated these 'forward' ceremonies under far different circumstances from these—when the flowers on the altar were dappled with blood, when the bursting shell and blazing shot, and the thunders of old ocean instead of organ tones, furnished the tremendous diapason."

"It is useless to cloak it, or deny it, or attempt to conceal it; there are two parties in the Church of England now at war, and the battle waxes hotter and hotter. There is the Low Church, and on the lowermost round of the ladder stands a man of great learning and of great heart—Bishop Colenso. He denies the infallibility, not of the Pope, but of JESUS CHRIST himself, the Son of God. He has written not only against the Church of England, but against the Church of CHRIST. He is a heretic, a rationalist, almost an infidel. Why is he not degraded? Why is his cowl not torn from his back? The Church in England is fettered and bound.

The speaker alluded to the martyr Becket, and said, Oh, that we had some humble monk that would dare, as did the monk who carried the cross before him! When he would have betrayed the church, the humble bearer laid the cross upon the marble floor, and, turning to the Archbishop of Canterbury, said: "I cannot bear aloft the cross of my MASTER in the presence of a traitor to His cause." The bishop did not place his seal to those articles." The speaker briefly told how the Church was fettered by Henry VIII., and Charles I., and how the Puritans (whom he denominated the Know Nothings of their time), tore off the surplices, gowns and stoles, and broke the organs. The Church, or a portion of it, is now trying to restore them, and the forms and ceremonies of worship, and they are termed ritualists therefor. This party believes in the real presence of the LORD at the altar—His very blood and body, made so when the priest consecrates the elements, whether in church or theater. To this belief are attended by far the greater portion of the learned men of the Church and the Universities. "What have such flummeries as gowns, purple and white, high altars and candles, to do with the worship of God? ask such men as Colenso, who is a rationalist, and others on the 'lowest round.' Parties are distinguished by their banners. You have many of you seen your banner on the battlefield; how your heart thrilled and leaped at the sight! The Catholic Church of England have adopted these as their banners and symbols. Long before the Church of Rome adopted them candles burned before crosses in the catacombs, and the external symbols of the early ages are appropriate to our church now."

After using the usual arguments from Scriptures to prove that the Holy Sacrament was a part of the very body and blood of CHRIST, the Priest took up the subject of the reverence due the Blessed Virgin Mary. "Would you not love a man who honored your mother?" he asked, "would you be displeased at him if he named what was dearest to him after her? Christ, when he came upon the earth, became man, with human attributes. He loved and reverenced the blessed mother that bore him. Can he, think you, be displeased at your showing reverence to her, and loving her? So be not ashamed at the name of your church." A few further remarks and the sermon closed with a benediction, the congregation rising as it was pronounced.

The congregation were requested to remain seated until the services were over, and while the organist played a voluntary, the Acolytes each with a crimson purse, passed down among the congregation the Priest repeating the while appropriate verses of Scripture. When the offertory was completed, the Acolytes returned with it to the Priest, who laid it, with a reverent genuflection, upon the Altar, the congregation rising to their feet as he did so. The announcement for next Sunday's services was then made, the benediction pronounced by the Priest, and the congregation dispersed.

Thus ended the first High Mass ever celebrated in Memphis by the Anglican Catholic Church.

COTTON.---$100 PREMIUM.

It affords us sincere pleasure to chronicle the following correspondence. It shows that our principal merchants are beginning to take a lively interest in the coming fair. Messrs. Tobin, Lynn & Co., with their usual enterprise, have taken the lead, and we may now expect to see a lively competition among our merchants:

MEMPHIS, TENN., September 23, 1868.

Col. M. D. L. Stewart, Chairman Executive Committee Shelby Country Agricultural Society:

SIR: Wishing to reward the industry of the planter, we hereby offer a premium of one hundred dollars ($100) for the finest bale of this year's cotton, raised within one hundred and fifty miles of Memphis. The cotton is to be delivered to us by the 15th of next month (October). Each bale will be properly sampled and examined by the regularly appointed committee of the Fair, who will act as judges and make the proper award on the grounds. If desired, the premium bale will be sold at auction on the grounds to the highest bidder. Every bale shipped to us to be entered for this premium will be sold by us immediately after the Fair is closed.

As Chairman of the Executive Committee, will you allow us to make this offer through the agency of the County Fair, to be held on the 29th, 30th and 31st of next month?

Very respectfully,
TOBIN, LYNN & CO.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Sept. 23, 1868.

Messrs. Tobin, Lynn & Co.:

SIRS: Your communication of this date, proposing a premium of $100 for the best bale of cotton, is before me, and in behalf of the Shelby County Agricultural Society I accept with pride and satisfaction your liberal and public spirited offer. Hoping other prominent merchants of Memphis will emulate your example in so doing the best interests of our city,

I remain, truly,
M. D. L. STEWART, Chairman, etc.

In accordance with the foregoing, we wish to call the attention of the planters to the general interest which attached to the fairs of Shelby county in former years; and we now desire to do whatever we can to further the interests of our city and the surrounding country, by exciting the same generous rivalry among the planters as prevailed in former times; and directing general attention by the same means to the superior inducements for trade offered by our city. We therefore offer $100 premium for the finest bale of this year's cotton, shipped to us by the 15th of October, as above stated, and hope to see a spirited rivalry among the planters for this and all other premiums offered by the Shelby County Fair.

AUGUSTA, ARK., July 18, 1868.

MESSRS. MANSFIELD & HIGBEE, Memphis, Tenn. Gentlemen: You will please send us a case (two dozen) of your TEXAS TONIC SYRUP, by the steamer Liberty. Our druggist says it is the most saleable medicine he has, and cures all cases; and we can say it is gaining a wide-spread circulation throughout this section as the only SURE CURE for Fever and Ague, or Chills and Fever. Very respectfully,

VAUGHN & SIM, Eds. Augusta Sentinel.
For sale by all druggists.

THE LEGACY TO LEAVE.—A common sense man once gave this maxim for husbands: "What you leave at your death, let it be without controversy, else the lawyers will be your heirs." Upon which this comment is in place: "If you leave your money by a will, there will be a struggle between the heirs; lawyers will be employed; they will take all the money for their costs, and send in a little bill besides and your friends will be worse off than ever. Even if harmony should prevail, it would take a long time to have your will proved, an executor appointed, and all the innumerable forms of the law complied with; and your poor wife might be sadly in want while she was waiting to receive what was her due." In view of these facts, even the richest men are now unwilling to rest easy with out life policies. For this one reason alone, many take out assurance. Again, saying nothing of relief from perplexity or distress in the very presence of this calamity, what an aid it must be for a wife to have a small sum of ready money in order to the quickest and most economical settling up of the estate. Thousands of dollars have thus been saved by means of life policies. And the records of Surrogates' Courts will show that, on the other hand, thousands and tens of thousands of dollars have been lost, and estates utterly ruined, for the want of a small sum of ready money. Life assurance provides a remedy for all this; since a policy on the life of a husband, payable, as the law directs, to the wife and children, does not wait the law's delay, but comes up promptly on the death of the deceased. So, too, once more, has many a valuable business been sacrificed by the inability of a widow to wait until a fair price could be obtained, owing to ready money being required. A life policy in a solid institution like the NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY would obviate all such contingencies, and it behooves every business man to go immediately to the agents, Messrs. McClure & Caskin, and take out a policy. 2t

MISCELLANEOUS.

Quietness reigned upon the landing yesterday, and until a late hour there were no arrivals.

Mr. E. O'Bannon, who has long been connected with the Willard Hotel of Louisville, has accepted a position in the office of the Overton of this city. Mr. O'Bannon is known to the public as one of the most popular of clerks, and will prove an acquisition to our great Hotel.

The fine steamer Belle Memphis, Capt. Geo. Crane, with Billy Blenker in the office, will get away to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. She needs no praise as a passenger packet.

Capt. Larry Harmstad, having secured the office No. 274 Madison street, formerly occupied by W. Jay Johnson, has located there permanently. He still retains the Star Wharfboat.

The U. S. mail packet Liberty, Capt. Jim Rice, leaves to-morrow for all points on White river. She makes all way landings and connects at Devall's Bluff with the train for Little Rock.

The Ozark is the regular U.S. mail packet for Little Rock and leaves to day for all points on the Arkansas. She is sure to go through and has fine passenger accommodations. Capt. Nowland is master of the Ozark.

The Des Arc will leave out to-morrow for all points on White river to Jacksonport. She is the independent packet. Capt. John Elliott, her master, is popular on that stream, as are also Joe Elliott and Matt. Glass, his clerks.

The fine packet Lizzie Gill, Capt. O'Neil, will pass down to-day at 10 a.m. for the Crescent City. Rose Powell is chief clerk of the Gill.

Every river man knows Maj. Mart Walt, of the firm of Mart Walt & Co., of this city. The Major, one his recent trip up the country, purchased and is now receiving one of the largest and most complete stocks of wet and bar stores ever brought to Memphis. He supplies a large number of our local packets and can bid his prices defy competition. We will add that he was not the victim in the Louisville affair alluded to in our local columns a few days ago.

The P. W. Strader passed down yesterday. She had a good trip. Among her freight was 200 mules and some horses for New Orleans.

The Ozark was due last night, and will, no doubt, be found at the levee this morning.

The towboats Dick Fulton and Stella passed down yesterday.

Four of the largest towboats ever built, left Pittsburg, Thursday, for New Orleans, viz: Mary Allen, Boaz, G and L. Ike and Alps. They bring 675 000 bushels of coal.

The Mollie Hambleton came in from St Francis river early last evening.

The H. M. Shreve, Capt. Carter, will pass up to-day at noon for Cairo and St. Louis. Mr. Worsham is clerk.

The Luminary, Capt. Luker, with a competent gentleman in the office, leaves to day for Vicksburg and the bends.

The Magenta will be here to leave on Wednesday for New Orleans.

The Mollie Hambleton, Capt. Bowman, will go up the Tennessee for the St. Francis, making all way landings. Mr. Pearce is her chief clerk, and Clerk and Shell are his assistants.

The rise in the Ohio has compelled the abandonment of the attempt to raise the sunken Silver Cloud.

A Pittsburg dispatch to the Louisville Journal, dated the 25th inst., says: No more coal will be shipped until the river commences to recede. The coal men think the river will reach the height of twenty-two or twenty-three feet. The Allegheny is now rising slowly. The river at Oil City is twenty inches and rising.

The steamers Antelope and Ingomar collided at Grove creek, twelve miles below Wheeling, Wednesday night, damaging both boats considerably.

The Steamboat Convention.

The convention of steamboat Captains and owners held at Louisville, adjourned on Friday and will hold their next meeting at New Orleans, on January 31, 1869. The committee appointed to devise means to raise funds to carry out the objects of the Association reported. They recommend the assessment of an aggregate tax of $2000 upon the local associations and further suggest that the most sure, effective and just way for that sum to be procured at once, is for each local association to immediately levy a tax on all boats represented in associations of two cents per ton hull measurement; such money as collected to be reported to the President of the Union Association, and subject to his order.

The committee appointed to select a suitable person to act as General superintendent, made the following report, which was adopted, and the Committee discharged:

Your Committee to whom was referred the consideration of the resolution to select a General superintendent, beg leave to respectfully report that we have fully considered the matter, and have had conference with Col. M. A. Bryson, whom we recommend as a suitable person to fill the position of General Superintendent, and suggest that the President and Board of Directors be authorized to engage his services in that capacity.

COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATION.

In accordance with a resolution passed at the meeting on Wednesday, the following committee was appointed to secure the passage by Congress of the steamboat bill, adopted by the association at its session at Cincinnati in October, 1867: E. W. Gould, St. Louis; R. H. Woolfolk, Louisville; Henry W. Smith, St. Louis; Thos. Cook, Cincinnati; Geo. H. Kirk, New Orleans; Capt. Boltzhoover, Pittsburg.

AGENTS.

Capt. R. S. Kirk offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That to more clearly define the relations that should exist between the agent, carrier and merchant, it is earnestly recommended that each local association appoint a committee to whom the whole subject of agents should be referred, said committee to be comprised of captains actually employed.

REPRESENTATION.

Gen. Ranney offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the marine interests, connected as they are with "9,000 miles of inland sea" navigation, are second to no other interest whatever, and it is due to our boatmen that they claim for themselves in the government an equal representative position with other great representative interests of the nation.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

Capt. R. H. Woolfolk offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That we, the representatives of the different local associations, do hereby pledge ourselves to co-operate with the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade in securing the necessary appropriations from our different cities for the improvement of the navigation, and to secure the improvement of our western rivers.

JUDICIOUS USE OF POWER.

The following resolution was offered by Capt. Woolfolk, and adopted:

Resolved, That while associations or combinations of interests are sometimes necessary for self-protection, still the power so acquired should be used with the greatest care, and so conducted as not to prove a barrier to commerce.

THE PRESS.

Capt. Ed. Callahan offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Union Association of Steamboat Captains and Owners, in convention assembled, are most hearty given to the press, for the full and accurate reports of our proceedings.

VOTE OF THANKS.

Capt. R. H. Woolfolk offered the following which was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this association be rendered to the Pilots' Benevolent Association for the use of their rooms during our deliberations.

REVISION OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Capt. R. S. Kirk offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to revise the constitution and make by-laws for the government of the Union Association, and to clearly define its powers.

The resolution was adopted. Then resolutions of a complimentary character were passed, when the meeting adjourned.

NOTICE

IS hereby given that an organization has been effected under a charter granted by the Legislature of Tennessee, November 17, 1868, entitled "An Act to incorporate the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Company."

JOHN D. ADAMS,
J. M. TEBBETTS,
JAMES LAWSON,
R. R. HAINES,
HARRISON BLASDEL,
} Directors.

The Line of Boats known as the "Memphis and Arkansas River U. S. Mail Packet Company," is merged in the chartered company.

JOHN D. ADAMS, President.
J. M. TEBBETTS, Secretary.

☞ The following boats will each make a trip a week until the new boats of the Company, now being built, are finished; leaving MEMPHIS as heretofore, on MONDAYS and THURSDAYS, at 6 o'clock p.m:

Thursday, St'er W. A. Caldwell, Haines Master.

Monday, Steamer Ozark, Nowland, Master.

Connecting at Little Rock with the steamers Van Buren, Fort Smith and American, for all points above, as high as Fort Gibson.

From the 1st to the 10th of November the new boats will be finished, and the Company will then run four boats from Memphis through to Fort Smith, giving direct communication with all points on the river, the Arkansas river now being in good navigable condition. Passengers and freight will be through to all points on the river without delay, and at reasonable rates.

All persons shipping freight for any point on the Arkansas river from North or East of Memphis, should have their goods consigned to JN

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, September 28, 1868.

Our banking houses to-day gave contradictory reports regarding the money market. While some report exchange more abundant, others say that there is little or none offering. While one or two of our banks buy Eastern bills at ¼ discount, others take them at par, and in at least one instance we hear of a small premium being allowed on a sight bill on the East. While the buying rates show this variation there is none to report in the checking rates—¼@¾ premium seems to be the uniform selling quotations.

Gold opened in New York at 142¾ and closed at 142¾. Our coin market is very tame. Lots of $5, $10 or $20 are occasionally offered for sale and taken at 140@140½. There is no counter demand, but brokers would sell at about 1c under New York rates.

We are glad to see that there is some improvement in the demand for City Scrip. The call comes from tax-payers who have been stirred up by the record of Mr. Bowen, City Tax Collector, calling attention, to the law regulating the collection of city taxes. While we are very much in favor of the speedy collection of all dues to the city for the present corporate year we would ask the Collector what action has been taken in reference to dues of last year and for several years back. While many tax-payers are straining every point to raise the means to pay the very heavy taxes under which they labor, it is hard that a favored few are said to be permitted to keep aloof and pay none at all. We are assured that some of our largest property holders are deeply in debt to the city for taxes long past due, and we, as well as nine-tenths of our oppressed people, demand that they be compelled to come forward and liquidate their obligations and thereby enable the city to take up some of its indebtedness. It is asserted that political influence wielded by these delinquents alone prevents the enforcement of the law, and if so we wish to know it.

City Scrip is firm. Buying at 72@74c. Selling at 75@80c.

County Warrants are in demand. Dealers prefer small pieces and take them at 56@57c. Selling at 60c.

School Scrip in moderate demand at 80@85c. Selling at 86@87c.

Police Scrip active at 80@85c. Selling at 85c.

A sale of $300 Mississippi and Tennessee railroad 2d mortgage bonds occurred to-day at 30c.

The same paper says of the money and general markets:

Money remains in full supply and with unchanged rates. Indeed the bank statement of the week shows an actual gain, something over a quarter of a million, of legal tenders. The general borrowing rates for the week were 5@6 per cent. at call, the lower figure as usual in favor of government securities. There were dealings at 5 per cent., but they were rarer and for smaller amounts than at the lower prices. Mercantile bills, of which there is a small proportion offering, were done at 6 per cent. for 60@90 days, though the general range for best paper was from 6½@7%. Bills do not seem to be making, or at least not offering in the market, as freely as was expected. The cotton trade is dull, the dry goods trade lighter than expected, with a fall in the prices of domestics, while the amount of paper made through auction sales of imported fabrics has been growing less. The dry goods auction sales for last week were generally without spirit and except for some of the finer sorts of woollens, little demand was manifest.

The 5-20s of 1862 and those of 1864 and the old issue of 1865 are dealt in the markets of London and the continent of Europe, principally, however, it is soon expected that the loans of 1865 (new) and of 1867 will be upon the foreign markets, as they become closed, loan (July 1, 1868. The amount of these is about 90 millions.

The later issues of 5-20s, to wit: the 6s, 68s and the 67s are more appreciated from the fact that they have a longer time to run. Consequently no 5-20 bonds being payable till five years after their issue, with interest in gold by law stipulated to be paid as long as the bonds are outstanding.

COTTON.

The Liverpool cotton market was dull at the opening to-day; Uplands, 9¾d; Orleans, 10¼d, and closed firmer at same quotations; sales 12,000 bales. In New York at the opening cotton was dull and nominal—at noon was dull and unchanged, and closed quiet but steady; Uplands, 25½c; Orleans, ——. Sales 800 bales; week's sales, 8509 bales. Week's receipts, 330 bales. Exports since September 1st, 8270. Stock on hand, 6030 bales. Receipts for the week at all United States ports, 30,000 bales.

There were not many buyers and our market to-day and prices early in the day were about ½c under our quotations of yesterday. Holders were stiffer at the close, however, and refused to accept their asking prices of the morning. We quote sales of 1 bale Ordinary, 20c; 2 do., 20½c; 3 bales Shy Low Middling, 24½c; 8 bales Low Middling, 25c; 16 bales Middling, 25¼c; 15 do. in several lots, 25½c.

TRADE.

We have on one or two occasions differed with our city authorities in reference to their action upon matters of city government and must do them the justice to say that in all cases in which they have embodied laws not conducive to the public good they have upon a proper showing of the facts repealed such laws without delay. In view of all the circumstances we do not believe that the Board at its last session acted wisely in prohibiting the temporary storage of cotton in Shaff. It is not by any means an ornament to our city, and until it is improved or brought into the condition designed by its donors it could be put to no better use. If our merchants are compelled to put all cotton into warehouses it will cause additional expense to the planter, and will in effect be injurious to our city. Taxes are heavy enough already without adding to them by unnecessary outlay. We hope that our authorities will investigate the matter as closely as its merits deserve and we are satisfied that if they do so this last embargo will be removed.

Business to-day was only so so, although the trade in plantation supplies was better, probably, than any day in the week. Meats of all kinds are in fair supply, and cured meats are provably some stiffer than on yesterday, although we question whether five or ten casks of bacon would sell to any one party at over 16c. A few casks offered at that figure in the morning were withdrawn and held at 16¾c. In a small way we quote at 16¾@17c. Shoulders are weak—a sale of 3 casks reported at 12c; Jobbing at 12½c. Mess Pork is some lower. City packed, full weight, held in round lots at $29@30; Prime Mess, $26@28 50. Feed of every kind is very scarce, and in demand. One hundred sacks Corn received per Mary Forsyth from St. Louis sold at 97c. Held at $1 03@1 05 in store. Oats are steady at 80@85c on levee, 90c in store in lots, 70c in small way. Hay scarce at $23@25. Chickens are firm at $4 50@5 00. Eggs, 26@28c. Cornmeal scarce and firm at $4 50@4 75. Flour unchanged. Whisky firm and in demand. Bagging, Ties, etc., are firm, but we have no further change to report in prices since yesterday.

WOLFE'S

Schiedam Schnapps.

THE above Medicinal Beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at his distillery, in Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use.

It is now some twenty years since the proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over three thousand letters from physicians, indorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper-berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, by which refuse oil is separated from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effect produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South, and Southwest are peculiarly liable—the SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS will be found absolutely infallible; while in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

DEAR SIR: Referring to the above card, we beg to inform you that we have this day entered into a copartnership, under the above style and firm, for the purpose of transacting a General Commission Business in all its branches.

Having had an active experience in the same for the past twelve years, we flatter ourselves that we will be able to give satisfaction in all business intrusted to us; and we respectfully solicit the patronage of our old friends, and hope, by strict attention to business, and faithful adherence to instructions, to gain many new ones.

We will make liberal advances on all consignments in store or on bills lading, and will fill your orders for any article in this market at the lowest cash prices.

All consignments insured, unless instructed to the contrary.

Hoping to hear from you, and to receive a share of your patronage, we are,

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin

THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for saving, picking the seed clean and light draught. For cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Agricultural Warrington & Howorth, 290 Front Street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. GUNNISON, manufacturer of the Seed Cotton Gin before the war, now a planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect. A. N. GUNNISON."

Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of PARKINGTON & HOWELL, 288 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Feeders and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skilful Gin wright. G. W. TRUEHEART, jy28 3m&w&sw Agent for Daniel Pratt.

DR. JAMES,

FORMERLY OF JAMES' LOCK HOSPITAL, Custom House street, New Orleans, (established 1850, for the last eight years located in Chicago, and celebrated throughout the country in the successful treatment of PRIVATE DISEASES, can be confidentially consulted at his office and parlors, 91 and 93 Randolph street corner of Dearborn street, or by letter Postoffice Drawer 5863.

Dr. AMES treats CHRONIC, MERCURIAL, SYPHILITIC, BLOOD and SKIN DISEASES, and all DISORDERS of CONTAGIOUS or NERVEAL CHARACTER—which he cures without the use of mercury, iodide of potash, arsenic or any poison, but with his NEW and POSITIVE, a positive cure for all humors and blood poisons.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS, such as SEMINAL WEAKNESS, NOCTURNAL and DIURNAL EMISSIONS, brought on by abuse of the organs, early indiscretions, excesses, or entailed hereditarily, causing loss of memory, confusion, depression, dimness of vision and oftentimes insanity, with a deplorable train of other symptoms, treated and radically cured by an infallible method, saving time and expense. All diseases peculiar to the sexual organs, of a private character, radically and permanently cured.

All diseases of the most horrible class, where the blood has become poisoned, producing blotches on the face, small watery blisters, pains in the head and bones, ulcerated throat and nose, sores on the limbs and body, scrofula, together with an endless number of sufferings effectually and permanently cured.

DR. JAMES is recommended by the press of the country, by professors of medical colleges, and by the medical profession generally. Those afflicted should apply to him, and be cured at once.

The Monitress, by Dr. James, a treatise upon the sexual organs of either sex, causes, effects and their remedies, compiled from an experience of twenty years' practice in the exclusive treatment of these diseases, sent to any address, securely sapped. Price one dollar. Pamphlet on SPERMATORRHEA, or one on SYPHILIS, sent in sealed envelope upon receipt of postage—two red stamps.
